

Cascade Clamps

Cascade Clamps - Established in Portland, Oregon in 1943, the Cascade Manufacturing Company began as a small machine shop hiring only four individuals. Overall sales for that particular year totaled sixty thousand dollars. The first recorded sales revenues involved the machining and assembly of stainless-steel valves, pipe fittings and different parts. During 5 years of operation, the business had stretched to 40 staff and their annual sales volume had increased to $330,000. Now, Cascade is one of the leading worldwide producers within the material handling business.

Manufacture and design of the company's very first hydraulic cylinder paved the way in Cascade's aggressive pursuit of better business opportunities. During the last sixty years, the material handling industry has matured into a highly sophisticated area and Cascade has proudly played a part on this development. Cascade presently continues to develop as the leader supplier of lift truck accessories and numerous related items. The business feels certain in their ability so as to continue to lead the way in the business by understanding customer's requirements in the future and remaining aggressive in the international market.

Throughout the nineteen fifties, Cascade started to fabricate, design, and advertise its hydraulic attachments. A brand new facility was built in the year 1956, in order to house all of the plant offices and operations in Portland, Oregon, which continues to be the company's current headquarters. Subsequent to 15 years of business, total employees reached one hundred eighty workers and sales had reached almost two million three hundred thousand dollars.

The next production plant was built in the year 1959 in Springfield, Ohio. 1960 marked Cascade's preliminary transfer into the global world of the material handling industry when the company established interest in Australia, the Netherlands and England.

In the year 1964, the business changed its name to the Cascade Corporation. Afterward in the year 1965, the company went public with an initial offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. Ever since then the business has expanded its manufacturing amenities throughout the continental USA to the areas Warner Robins Georgia to go along with its already existing plants in Portland, Oregon and Springfield, Ohio. Cascade merchandise are made worldwide thanks to lots of subsidiary operations. In 1994, a new facility was accomplished in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European command center. This facility is built to be the essential customer support centre.

Continuing to develop, Cascade expanded their product offering further in the year 1996 and 1997 with the impressive acquisition of five firms, together with the worldwide best in blades, the Kenhar Corporation.
